This area is used by many types of outdoor enthusiasts including hikers, bikers, horsemen, joggers, and hunters. Please respect the unique limitations of each activity and share the space as if you participated in all of these activities.

- Unless you're a hunter in the act of hunting, stay on the trail.
- Stay to the right on wider paths. Pass on the left.
- Don't cut switchbacks or take shortcuts.
- When overtaking someone, let them know you are approaching and will be passing on their left.
- Whenever you stop for a view, a rest, or to yield, move off the trail so as to free it for others.
- Hikers going uphill are working hard and should be given the right of way over hikers coming downhill.
- Greet people you meet. This makes sure they know you are there and is polite.
- When hiking in a group, hike single file or take no more than half of the trail width.
- When meeting a horse, get off the trail on the downhill side. Horses will tend to bolt uphill when spooked. Stand quietly while the horses pass.
- Bicycles should not be operated faster than that which permits a full stop within the sight distance of other users.
- Dogs are required to be on a leash at all times in both the State Park and the Corps of Engineers Habitat Management Unit (except hunters in the act of hunting).
- Pack It In - Pack It Out. This includes doggy waste.
- Ride, run, walk and recreate at your own risk.
- Unless you are a hunter in the act of hunting, please Do Not Enter the Intensive Wildlife Zones. As a human you are a guest on land which has been set aside for wildlife. These areas are managed with special features to promote and protect the plants and animals.
